

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 6.

NO MATTER what ex-President Cleveland may be, President Harrison does not even pretend to be better than his party—or the most vigorous waver of the bloody shirt in it. Death has all seasons for its own, and President Harrison has all seasons for reminding his hearers of the war in which one half of the common country was devastated and desolated by the people of the other half, assisted by hirelings from all the other nations of the world. In and out of season he lugs in reminders of that war, and when there is no opportunity for such reminders, he makes one. At the celebration of the founding of a religious college in Pennsylvania yesterday, when it was only natural to suppose that the minds of his audience would be upon subjects of peace and good will to all their fellow men, let alone their own fellow countrymen, he reminded them of the "victorious march of his regiment in the great strife." Will the cruel war never be over? or does Mr. Harrison think there is one more Presidential term in the bloody shirt?

IF CHAIRMAN QUAY, of the national republican committee, had the same opinion of all ex-Confederates that editor Shepard, of the New York Mail and Express, has, General Mahone would do as the Arabs do, fold up his tent and silently steal away, for he would have no money with which either to buy white men in blocks of five, or to colonize negroes, at the coming election. Mr. Shepard says that "each and all of the rebel brigadiers are still disloyal and are only waiting a favorable opportunity for making war again." Mahone, Slem and Lurty, three "rebel brigadiers" would have a worse show even than they have, if the redoubtable Shepard, instead of Senator Quay, had control of the purse of the national republican committee, which is kept full by contributions from the protected mine and factory owners of the North, in order that the protective tariff may be continued.

EX SENATOR LEWIS, one of the original Virginia republicans, has joined the other white men of his State in opposition to Gen. Mahone. Langston and all the other negroes stand by the General, but the reputable white republicans are making common cause with their white fellow citizens against the common enemy. The color line will be pretty closely observed at the November election, for, if the negroes, as they will, all vote one way, it is only natural that all the white men who think themselves better than negroes should vote the other.

THE LETTER of Attorney General Miller to the U. S. Marshal of California, directing him to send armed men with Justice Field to protect that Justice from indignity has been made public. In it Mr. Miller confesses that he had no authority in law or precedent for issuing such directions, by saying: "You will understand, of course, that this letter is not for the public." If it had been for the public, the indignity to one judge and the murder of another would have been avoided. Morally, Mr. Miller is an accomplice in the latter.

THE New York Herald says: "It is silly to talk about a government that shall be exclusively white, for the Constitution stands in the way, and its provisions cannot be abrogated." If this be so, the objection to negroes, according to northern professions, is not so great in the North as it is in the South, let mixed government be first established in the North. The South has tried it, and neither wants, nor will have, any more of it. It is against nature, and human, can not prevail against natural laws.

BECAUSE the white people of Luverne, Alabama, the only people who receive any mail matter there, would not go on the bond of the negro Mr. Wanamaker appointed postmaster at that town and would not rent him a house, Mr. Wanamaker threatens to discontinue their postoffice. Mr. Wanamaker must know very little about human nature, southern human nature at least, if he hopes to obliterate natural race distinctions by any such arbitrary tyranny.

FROM WASHINGTON.

(Special Correspondence of the ALEX. GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 6, 1889.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, now here, says he asked the President last Wednesday whether or not there would be an extra session of Congress, and that the reply he received was to the effect that while the matter had not been formally considered by the Cabinet, the President was of the opinion that as the Senators and Representatives from the four new States, the latter being necessary to secure the republican organization of the House, could not reach here before the 11th of November, he thought it would be silly to call an extra session only two or three weeks before the time for the commencement of the regular session. The Senator also said he had asked the same question of Attorney General Miller, who told him he thought an extra session would meet on the 21st of October. But the President's will is as potent in the matter of extra sessions as in that of appointments.

It is reported here that the Mahone committee of the 8th Congressional district of Virginia, the Alexandria district, composed of Messrs. Agnew, Farr, Elam, Strother and Bayly, will meet here to-day, and that they will recommend to General Mahone that he appoint Mr. Corbett chairman of his Alexandria committee, vice Dearborn to resign; also that in case the General shall adopt this recommendation, Mr. Lucas, who otherwise will be the Mahone candidate for the legislature in Alexandria, will withdraw, as he does not think Mr. Corbett the right man for the place.

One of the applicants for the Alexandria postoffice, here to-day, when asked about his prospects, said he now believed no appointment would be made until after the election in his State; that if Mahone won the fight all the remaining federal patronage in the State would be given to him, but that if he lost it, all would be given to the anti.

Mr. Frank Hume of Alexandria county, Virginia, who will be the democratic candidate for the Virginia legislature in Alexandria, has been called on at his office in this city by some of the Mahoneites from Alexandria and advised against accepting the nomination. They told him that Mr. Lucas would certainly beat him in the city of Alexandria, and that they had all the money they wanted, five thousand dollars if necessary, to carry the county, and that they had hoped he would stay out of the fight this year and be an independent candidate for Congress next fall, when all the republicans in the district would support him. They did not receive much encouragement. Mr. Hume will accept the democratic nomination, and expects to be elected by a large majority, getting all the democratic, and a large proportion of the republican voters of both the city and county of Alexandria.

The following changes in the 4th class postoffice of Virginia were made to-day: Big Stone Gap, Wise county, John M. Goodloe appointed postmaster, vice Wm. B. Kibbourn, resigned; Glenwilton, Botetourt county, T. D. Kauffert, vice H. C. Douthett, removed; Stafford C. H., Stafford county, John M. Stevens, vice Lucy B. Smith, removed.

STATE POLITICAL NOTES.

Gen. Mahone expects the assistance of Congressmen Reed and McKinley and other northern republicans in his campaign.

The democrats of King and Queen county have nominated Mr. J. S. Jones for the House of Delegates. E. L. Roberts has been nominated for the Senate from Washington and Smyth counties.

Gov. Lee has returned to Richmond from his summer vacation in the mountains of Virginia, and it is announced that he will soon make a number of speeches for the Virginia democratic State ticket.

A compact is said to have been concluded between General Mahone and Langston. The latter is to use his influence with the colored voters in Virginia, and to be rewarded with Mahone's support in his candidacy for Congress.

The republican league of Richmond, numbering 300 white members, has bolted the nomination of Mahone. Hon. John S. Wise, ex-Governor Cameron, ex-Senator Riddleberger, Hon. Jacob Yost, James A. Frazier, D. Sheffield Lewis, and Charles A. Heermans will be asked by the league to speak and show up Mahone and his methods.

The Mahoneites have purchased the interest of Col. Wm. Pendleton in the Wytheville Patriot-Herald, a republican paper, and the paper will support the Mahone ticket. Col. Pendleton, as he says in his valedictory editorial, resigned the editorial conduct of the paper "rather than support a ticket against which conscience and judgment both revolted."

The conference of republicans which has been in session in Petersburg for the past two or three days at the residence of General Mahone adjourned at a late hour last night, after flustering up the schedule of speakers and places where they are to speak during the canvass. The committee of ten, appointed by the republican State convention held at Norfolk, met yesterday and, it is understood, made some changes in the plan of organization. It is said that General Mahone is to remain chairman of the republican party. He is deemed the proper man for the place, and the fittest one for the work to be done. The General expects to start out on his campaign in a few days, and will speak at many points in the State. Gen. Mahone says he will be glad to meet Capt. P. W. McKinley in debate at any time.

Ex Senator Lewis on Mahone.

LYNWOOD, Sept. 2, 1889.

Editor Valley Virginian:

I have read with pleasure your able and manly article, giving the reasons why you cannot support the nominee for Governor of the Norfolk Convention, and I write to endorse your position.

I was one of the few who met in the city of Alexandria, in 1866, to organize the republican party in Virginia, since which time I have given to the party, in national, State and county elections, a constant and cordial support. I cannot, however, support Gen. Mahone for Governor, because I sincerely believe the interests of the party, in the State and nation, will be best subserved by his defeat.

Mahoneism is not republicanism, and until the former is repudiated, the latter can never prevail in Virginia.

Had Gen. Mahone, since the election of Gov. Cameron in 1881, shown half the zeal in waging war upon the "crisis" that he has shown in his efforts to "crush" or to drive from our party many of its best and most efficient members, the State of Virginia to-day would be more reliably republican than Ohio. True republicans have not forgotten his assassin-like attack on the Hon. James G. Blaine in his infamous secret circular, nor his numerous acts of folly and malignant persecution which have resulted in the defeat of the party in the State since 1882. The time has come when in my judgment all these acts should be rebuked.

The evils we endure lie not alone in the plan of organization, bad and unrepublishable as it is, but in the character and methods of the man himself who as a candidate for Governor is now appealing to republicans for their support, and I am persuaded that if the situation in Virginia were understood by our friends at the North, he would receive no support of any kind from that quarter. The recent so-called "compromise" he has utterly disregarded, and, if possible, has been more arbitrary, tyrannical and unjust than before. He ought to be defeated, and I do not doubt that such will be the result in November.

JOHN F. LEWIS.

State Medical Society.

The feature of yesterday's session of the Medical Society at Roanoke was a lecture by Dr. L. G. Pedigo, of that city, on "Neurology and Psychology," and illustrations to throw light on the phenomena known as Hypnotism. He subjected a prominent citizen to this hypnotic sleep three times, completely controlling his actions by the will-force of will-power. Drs. George Tucker Harrison, J. H. Claiborne, Jr., former Virginia; W. D. Dugmore and John Radlon, of New York city, read papers before the society, and each was tendered a vote of thanks. Dr. J. G. Wiltshire, of Baltimore, fraternal delegate from the Medical and Chiropractical Faculty of Maryland, read a paper before the society on the action of anesthetics and their uses.

The meeting adjourned last night after which a banquet was given the members. At Wednesday's session a resolution offered by Dr. T. M. Jones, of this city, that employees of railroads, when injured, should be allowed to select their own physicians, was referred to a committee. The committee recommended its adoption, and it was so received by the society. Dr. Brown, of this city, read a paper relating his personal experience in the treatment of croupous pneumonia for the last forty years.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Mrs. Maybrick has been removed from the infirmary in the Working prison, and now occupies a solitary cell.

Upward of 200 stevedores, longshoremen, and freight handlers are idle in Boston on account of the great London strike.

Answers so far received from boards of trade and mayors of cities show a majority in favor of Washington as the location of the world's fair.

The regents have warned ex-Queen Natalie not to attempt to carry out her scheme of establishing a residence in Belgrade as a private person.

Boulanger has written to Prime Minister Tirard, of France, claiming the right to be tried by court-martial and pledging himself to appear before such tribunal.

Oysters are arriving at Baltimore in large quantities and sell at from fifty to sixty cents per bushel. The oysters are fine in quality for this season of the year, being fat and of fair flavor.

The State renunciation of ex-Confederates and Federal soldiers began at Fort Worth, Tex., Wednesday. Thousands of people were present. There was good feeling all around. The reunion continues three days.

As the New York and Boston baseball clubs both lost yesterday they stand in the same position as before. Philadelphia gained on Chicago and Pittsburgh, Indianapolis and Washington strengthened their positions.

Wednesday night an American flag, which was suspended across Water street, in St. Stephen, N. B., was torn down, dipped in a drinking fountain, dragged through the street, and left hanging to a barber shop door.

George S. Howzer and Miss Mary H. Mohler, of Ingles, Jefferson county, W. Va., despite the opposition of their parents drove to Harper's Ferry, Wednesday, where they got the Rev. Mr. Isaacs to marry them on the bridge, that being outside of the jurisdiction of West Virginia.

Patrick E. Brady, after being almost continuously in prison more than thirty years, was liberated from the Auburn, N. Y., prison on Wednesday by Executive clemency. He was sentenced to death in 1862, after having been convicted of participation in the murder of Augustus T. Wright, a keeper in the Clinton prison.

The wife of Frank Meek, a day laborer, at Pottstown, Pa., yesterday gave birth to a still born female child, the head and face of which, as well as the hair, resembled those of a lion. The woman died soon afterward. It is said that she was frightened in the spring by a lion while attending a circus.

During the riotous proceedings near Greenwood, Miss., within the past few days, the negroes burned the store of Mr. Jamieson, at Shady Grove, because he refused to sell them powder and shot. Jamieson escaped. It has been learned that the negro who Allen killed for refusing to take up arms against the whites was his own brother.

Miss Annie Mead of Brooklyn, who, as stated in yesterday's GAZETTE, committed suicide at Niagara Falls, deliberately walked to the step-off place about 250 feet from the brink, threw her parasol and pocketbook over and jumped in herself. All the way down she smiled and laughed and waved her hands. When almost at the brink an eddy caught her, twirled her around, and she went over head first into the abyss below.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Mr. W. Larkin, a lawyer, was fined $50 in the Corporation Court of Lynchburg, yesterday, for practicing law without license. He had tendered coupons.

Ed. S. Oliver, of Bedford county, was yesterday gored in the stomach by an enraged bull at his place near Forest Depot. He is advanced in years, and it is feared his injuries will terminate fatally.

Stephen Myers, colored, aged 18 years, was arrested yesterday at Whitwell, Pennsylvania county, charged with a criminal assault upon Miss Mary J. Mills, a white lady about 40 years old, who has been for a number of years partially demented.

Chesapeake Presbytery.

[Reported for the ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.] This church court met at Greenwich, Prince William county, Va., on Tuesday, Sept. 3rd, at 7:30 p. m., and the opening sermon was preached by Rev. J. I. Vance, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of this city, from 1 Cor. xiv. 37, the retiring Moderator, Rev. W. H. Robertson, being absent on account of sickness in his family.

After the opening prayer, Presbytery was constituted by electing Capt. K. Kemper, of Alexandria, Moderator, and Revs. Wm. Dinwiddie, D. D., and J. I. Vance, temporary clerks. The attendance on the part of the ministers and elders was not large, but the meeting was a very pleasant and harmonious one, the members being most hospitably entertained by the pastor, Rev. A. B. Carlington, and his estimable wife, and by the friends of the church in the village and vicinity. The usual routine business was transacted and encouraging reports of the state of religion were received from some of the churches within the bounds of this Presbytery.

Rev. John C. Dinwiddie was received from Roanoke Presbytery, a call from the Leesburg church being placed in his hands and accepted by him. A commission, consisting of Revs. Wm. Dinwiddie, D. D., J. I. Vance and A. W. Pitzer, D. D., and Elder O. S. Braden was appointed to install him. The pastoral relation between Rev. W. D. White and the Marshall and Delaplane churches was dissolved, to take effect the 1st of October. Mr. White was granted permission to labor within the bounds of the Presbytery.

A letter was read from Rev. Edward Ellis, Jr., and the stated clerk was directed, on application, to grant a certificate of dismissal to any other Evangelical body where he can conscientiously labor, qualified with the statement that Mr. Ellis cannot subscribe fully to the standards of the Presbyterian church.

Committees were appointed to report at the spring session on the title, ladies foreign missionary societies, and the directory of worship.

Resolutions were passed on the condition of Greenwich church, and the committee on delinquent churches, consisting of Revs. Wm. Dinwiddie, D. D., J. I. Vance, and Elder G. C. Heard, was continued.

The Central church of Washington City was chosen as the next place of meeting and the 31 Tuesday in April, 1890, as the time. The Presbytery, after returning thanks for the hospitality of their host, adjourned with singing, prayer, and the benediction.

THE BALTIMORE CELEBRATION.—The Pennsylvania Railroad announces round trip tickets to Baltimore during the Maryland Exposition at $1.20. These tickets will be sold from Saturday, Sept. 7th to the 14th. Good to return till Sept. 21st. Trains to Pimlico, where the sham battle takes place, connect direct with trains of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Union Station.

Dr. David Tilton Brown, a wealthy retired farmer, in a fit of insanity hanged himself in his barn near Batavia, Ill., Wednesday night.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Remarkable Murder.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 6.—One of the most remarkable murder cases ever recorded in this State is on trial in the Fayette county criminal court. L. R. Smith was employed last spring as a detective. He arrested Jackson, the negro he killed, thinking he was a murderer. He afterwards learned that he was mistaken in his man. In order to secure his reward Smith told the negro he would release him if Jackson would allow him to cut off one of his ears. Jackson's ears were marked similarly to those of the negro wanted. The negro agreed and the ear was cut off. Smith then feared that Jackson would betray him and determined to kill him. He gave him the choice of hanging himself or being hanged. The negro chose the former, and while pretending to search for a suitable place, made a break for liberty. Smith fired and the negro fell. Smith left, believing him dead. The negro lived, however, to tell the tale, and his dying statement is the principal evidence.

Disagreeing Catholics.

PIERCE CITY, Sept. 6.—Yesterday the jury returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the State of Missouri versus Father Hynes for breaking the stile at the Catholic cemetery. The warrant was sworn out at the instance of Bishop Hogan. The fight between the Bishop and Father Hynes was started by some parishioners who refused to pay pew rent and enlisted the Bishop in their behalf. The Bishop suspended Hynes and the priest made a trip to Rome and was reinstated by the propaganda. A short time after his return the Bishop ordered him to Higginsville, and as the members of his church continued to stand by him he refused to go, whereby Bishop Hogan suspended him and had him arrested for breaking the stile at the cemetery. Father Hynes will pay no attention to the suspension, claiming that the Bishop has no authority to suspend a priest.

Sitting Bull in Danger.

BISMARCK, Dak., Sept. 6.—The excitement at Standing Rock agency is increasing every day, and old Sitting Bull stands in imminent danger of losing his life, as the Indians believe he was instrumental in causing the sickness of John Grass, the chief justice of the Sioux tribe. Sitting Bull's old time followers numbering about 20 are upholding him and sturdily deny having had anything whatever to do with John Grass' ailment. There is but little chance of his recovery. John Grass' friends are becoming so threatening that Sitting Bull will probably have to be locked up in the guard house to shield him from bodily harm.

Frost.

PLATSMOUTH, Neb., Sept. 6.—A very heavy frost fell here last night. Much corn will be injured, as only on the dry highland was the crop out of danger.

DODGE CENTRE, Minn., Sept. 6.—A heavy frost in the northern part of this county last night did considerable damage to the corn crop.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 6.—Reports from points in Kansas and Missouri, show that a light frost prevailed throughout the northern parts of those States Wednesday night. No damage to the corn crop is reported.

Killed by a Train.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 6.—A train from Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania road, due at Elizabeth at 10:50 a. m., struck and killed two boys who were driving across the track in a wagon loaded with bread. The wagon was demolished and the bodies of the boys were horribly mangled. The wagon was carried for a distance of 300 yards on the pilot of the engine. The bodies were taken to Elizabeth.

Pearls.

ALBANY, Wis., Sept. 6.—The pearl excitement in this vicinity is now at its height. The finds are more numerous and valuable than ever. The largest and by far the most valuable pearl in Wisconsin was found yesterday. A New York buyer offered $5,000 for it, but his figure was considered too low. Hundreds of small pearls are found and sold daily.

Terrific Explosion.

ANTWERP, Sept. 6.—Dynamite exploded to-day in a cartridge factory, killing several persons and doing much damage to property. Portions of the Bourse were struck by burning fragments and set on fire. It is now known that 126 persons were killed.

Miners Killed.

EDINBURGH, Sept. 6.—The colliery explosion yesterday resulted in the death of 50 miners, only 14 of the 64 men at work in the pit having been rescued. The scene of the disaster was Penicuik, a small town within ten miles of this city.

The London Strike.

LONDON, Sept. 6.—The Steam Navigation Company has conceded the strikers' terms and an increased number of wharf laborers are at work to-day. The shipwrights at Workington, in Cumberland, have struck for an advance of four shillings weekly.

Telegraphic Brevities.

Price's (dem.) majority in the Third Louisiana district is 7,590.

Henry W. Genet, of the Tweed ring fame, died in New York to-day.

Mr. W. B. Strong has resigned as president and director of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway.

It has been discovered that an old farmer near New Castle, Ill., heretofore supposed to have been poor, is worth $28,000.

The Oregon Pacific E. R. Co.'s foundry at Yacoma City, Oregon, was burned last night, involving a loss to the railroad company of $20,000. For a time great excitement prevailed, and it was feared most of the town would be swept away.

COLLAPSED.—A sensation has been caused in Lynchburg by the collapse of a banking institution which has been conducted on a somewhat elaborate scale for the past nine months. In December, 1888, a concern styling itself "The American Insurance and Banking Company" obtained a charter from Judge Latham, of the corporation court. Its capital stock was put down as $100,000, and the company began business with R. M. Brown as president and C. C. Welliver as secretary and treasurer. These two men, with Morton Brown, of Gala, Va.; H. J. Brown, of Flemington, Pa., and H. H. Welliver, of Lock Haven, Pa., constituted the board of directors. The company carried on its business in a fine building, with much ostentation, and seemed to be enjoying unusual prosperity for a new venture. The extent of its operations is unknown, but yesterday the commonwealth's attorney went before the grand jury with certain facts and upon the strength of his information indictments were returned against Brown and Welliver, charging them with grand larceny. Warrants were issued for the arrest of the two men, but in some manner the officials scented danger and closed the bank and fled. Every effort will be made to apprehend them.

A WOMAN BURNS HERSELF TO DEATH.

Mrs. Kate B. Fetter, wife of Ordnance Sergeant Fetter, of the artillery company stationed at Fort McHenry, swallowed a pint of coal-oil at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, then saturated her dress with the same fluid and set it on fire. In an instant she was a mass of flames. Her four-year old daughter, who at the time was in the quarters of the non-commissioned officers, where the woman plied the match, ran screaming out of the place. Several who were in the neighborhood heard the child's cries and ran to her. She told them of her mother's awful plight, and, directed by the little girl, they pushed their way into the quarters and found the woman standing by the stove. Flames completely enveloped her. She was wrapped in a blanket and the flames were soon smothered. A physician was summoned, but she died shortly after his arrival. Her husband had left the barracks a few minutes before she set fire to herself. It is stated that she had frequently threatened to end her life. She was a native of Chesapeake City, Md., and was about 34 years old.—Baltimore Sun.

THE HAMILTON CONSPIRACY.—

Conclusive evidence that Mr. Robert Ray Hamilton has deserted Mrs. Hamilton was developed yesterday, when, upon an order from him, all his property at Noll cottage, Atlantic City, was sent to his address in New York. The midwife who gave the baby to Mrs. Swinton and Eva to be palmed off on Mr. Hamilton for his own offspring was taken to Atlantic City, where she identified both the baby and Mrs. Hamilton. After Hamilton's marriage to Eva, the latter showed Hamilton's will to Mann. It went to show that in case of his death all of his wealth should go to his wife and daughter. Eva said this was a good thing to have in case Hamilton got killed, that as he was fond of horseback riding he might meet with a serious accident at some time, and then Eva told Josh she would marry him. The child Beatrice is said not to be of illegitimate birth.

GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER.—

The Grand Royal Arch Chapter of Virginia met at Roanoke yesterday. The following officers were elected: Grand High Priest, John T. Parham, of Petersburg; Grand King, J. Howard Wayt, of Staunton; Grand Scribe, G. W. Wright, of Marion Grand Treasurer, W. T. Allen, of Richmond; Grand Secretary, W. B. Isaacs, of Richmond; Grand Captain of the Hosts, W. L. Jeffries, of Calpepper; Grand Principal Sejourner, J. T. Carter, of Danville; Grand Royal Arch Captain, J. J. Dudley, of Norfolk; Grand Master of the Third V. L. George W. P. of Richmond; Grand Master of the Second V. L. Frank A. Reid, of Alexandria; Grand Master of First V. L. W. E. Turner, of Richmond. The Grand Chapter will meet next year at Bristol-Goodson. Last night the Grand Chapter was banqueted by Murray Chapter.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

The fall activity in business here, as in other places, has not yet set in, and most branches of trade are quiet. The wheat crop in this vicinity and the low prices it is bringing makes money tight both with farmers and commission merchants. The grocery trade, however, is more active. There is no change in local stocks. Sales were made in Baltimore yesterday of Midlands as follows: 1st 120412; 2d 1177; 3d 1084110; 5th 974 98. Loans on call with best collateral were quoted there at 4 1/2 per cent. per annum, the former for most desirable new business. Discount rate is 4 1/2 per cent, as to standing of makers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The stock market opened this morning with a spirit of activity, and was very feverish, but soon quieted down to a moderate business. First prices were irregular, but generally small fractions higher than last evening's closing prices, though most stocks later shaded off slightly from first prices. At eleven o'clock the market was fairly active and rather heavy at close to opening prices. Money 2 1/2-3.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—Virginia consolidated 38; past-due coupon—10-40s 36; do 38 67 1/2.
